DETAILED ACTION

This responds to Applicant's Arguments/Remarks filed 10/28/2010. Claims 6, 10, 14, 20, 32, and 36 have been amended. Claims 1-40 are now pending in this Application.

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant has amended Claims 14-19, 20-23, and 32-40 limiting the medium to other than a propagated signal which Examiner interprets as only non-transitory media. Thus, the rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 101 is withdrawn.
2. Applicant has satisfactorily amended Claims 32-40. Thus, the rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 112, first and second paragraphs, is withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-40 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record neither anticipates nor renders obvious Applicant's claimed invention wherein, in combination with the other claimed limitations, the system, method and or computer-readable medium comprises receiving a request from a first player to enable gate crashing in the game by a second player wherein the game is configured to be a single player game. The closest prior art of record is U.S. Patent No. 2003/0125112 to Silvester who teaches of allowing crashers in a multiplayer mode but fails to disclose receiving a request by the single player to allow crashing. The request to crash the game happens at a later point in time and is initiated by the crasher himself. U.S.

Patent No. 2004/0143852 to Meyers is also a multiplayer game, but it also discloses that there are non-MMORPG games which can be played by a single player, wherein crashers can take over NPCs unbeknownst to the player. Yet, like Silvester, there is no request received from the first player to enable crashing. Crashing happens automatically. There is no way for the player to elect to have crashing occur or not occur.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
